The Mowbray

A flexible, versatile space means photo shoots, filming - plus The Mowbray has been cleverly designed to drive into - so perfect for car launches and those times a grand piano is needed for a concert. We have lots of wall space so ideal for gallery and product launches. Ideal for 5-250 crew and guests.

Victoria

Photo shoots, markets, festivals, live music, literary launches, gatherings and socials, clothing sales and art exhibitions, fashion shows, choirs and theatre, podcasts, product launches and indoor-outdoor wellness - Victoria with its stage, beautiful interiors and the ability to make things happen is an exceptional space for up to 500.

The Chimney House

Often used for TV interviews and fashion shoots, we welcome TV crews for a last minute interview or photo shoots for the national press. Sustainability Matters

A love story of restoring and rescuing three derelict buildings to reflect their history as well as today's needs - we create and make furniture, lighting and interiors from reclaimed timbers and salvaged treasures. Each of our buildings brings a quiet beauty from reuse bringing soul and warmth to each space in turn shaping and making them into premium, luxury, award winning northern event spaces.

“Our way - as with all of our buildings is to use sustainable and thoughtful ways to tackle and raise vital awareness for topics such as recycling, reducing impact and re-use. We believe that great materials are at the heart of great design and therefore beautiful interiors. The reclamation and reuse of architectural salvage is prominent in all of our venues. It's one of our particular trademarks that has a deeper meaning than just pleasing aesthetics. For us, design and making furniture gives us the chance to create legacy pieces that sit happily today and in the future.

Guests use our spaces for meetings with work then return for weddings, anniversaries and celebrations - then return again for Supper Clubs and Lunch Clubs - it's a circle of sustainability - which all stems from our buildings and the work we have done to protect and preserve heritage and champion sustainability... “

Sally & Tim Hubbard, Owners

Our blueprint is to buy, renovate historic buildings in urban settings to create exceptional gathering spaces in turn promoting and supporting the regeneration of an area.

Our values are around inclusivity, creativity, sustainability, seasonal food, beautiful interiors and expert hospitality - all placed carefully at the heart of everything we do

Fusing British architecture with modern thought - Rock & Star venues embody a curated vision of reuse and rebirth blending beauty with over 20 years of events experience to create a unique hospitality experience for everyday use.

REFRESHINGLY NOT CORPORATE

With every detail handled with exacting detail and care - we care as much as you do for the success of your event. Our guests are looking for more than a room to host an event - they are looking for expertise, professionalism and beautiful environments

“Sheffield South East Learning Partnership hosted an all day conference across multiple rooms with various key speakers and workshops. The whole day ran like clockwork due to the organisation and on-site support from The Victoria team. The facilities are high quality and refreshingly ‘not corporate’! The food was exquisite and a real treat. We will definitely book again!”

TREAT YOUR TEAM

Outside of our week to week, day to day we punctuate the corporate year with exceptional gatherings to treat your team. That’s the one thing that never falters or fails to delight us - the planning of an excellent team social.

“We returned to The Mowbray for our Christmas Party Lunch for the second year. On our first visit in 2024; we were so impressed with the venue, staff and quality of food, that it was a certain that we would return in 2025. Once again; The Mowbray delivered an excellent party for us all.”

OUR TEAM MAKE THE DIFFERENCE

From the moment you enquire till we help you pack your car post event - we’re here to help

“Victoria is an exceptional meeting space with outstanding service. The room was bright, spacious, and from first contact, through booking, to changes, to setup, to the event, nothing was too much trouble for the team. When you get there, the venue is beautiful - it’s clear there’s a real eye-for-detail gone into the fitting out. And the service from the minute we walked in to left the next day was wonderful. Checking we had everything we needed, accommodating last minute changes, all wonderfully dealt with. And then we get to the food: delicious, served over the long banqueting table, again with great service and drinks flowing. To summarise, one of the nicest venues, service and food for a team get together of my 30-year career. We will be back”

A Place of Hope

We have had the privilege of partnering with Save the Children to deliver South Yorkshire's first Child Poverty Summit — a landmark event welcoming 210 guests from across the region and beyond. Designed as an ambitious multi-site experience, the summit unfolded across both The Mowbray and The Victoria, two venues situated directly opposite one another, allowing the day to move seamlessly between conversation, storytelling, dining and reflection.

Working closely with the Save the Children team, we helped shape and deliver an event that felt both purposeful and deeply human. From immersive installations and interactive spaces to screenings, sponsor activations and media interviews, every detail was carefully considered to support the summit's message and impact. Across The Mowbray, The Clubhouse, The Lodge, The Chapel, The Courtyard and Up On The Roof's Cabin, guests encountered spaces designed to encourage dialogue, collaboration and connection.

Guests were welcomed with fresh coffee and pastries on arrival, with hospitality continuing throughout the day through free-flowing refreshments and thoughtful service. At the heart of the experience was A Place of Hope — a fully vegetarian, nut-free mezze lunch served family-style for 140 guests at The Mowbray. The shared dining experience was intentionally designed to bring people together around the table, creating space for conversation and community in a meaningful and memorable way.

The event itself spanned three days, with a dedicated live summit day supported by full venue coordination, set build and breakdown management. Alongside managing multiple filming locations and national and international media coverage, we also worked closely with organisers to ensure full safeguarding procedures, accessibility considerations and sign-off processes for photography and film capture were seamlessly integrated throughout the event.

The summit was widely regarded as a major success, generating significant press attention and leaving a lasting legacy across South Yorkshire. Reflecting on the collaboration, Sarah Godfrey from Save the Children shared:

"The success of the summit wouldn't have been possible without the support, advice and vision from the team at The Victoria. We worked together to push beyond the lines of the space and test ideas and, by doing so, created an event which leaves an incredible legacy in South Yorkshire."

THE FEAST

Served as a rolling feast - plate after plate arrives at your table - until there's no more room...It's all hands on deck - forks, spoons and knives at the ready to feast!

We've never served individual plates - to us - there's nothing finer than passing plates, sharing food and going back in for seconds, thirds and leaning back in our 1940's chairs stuffed to the brim. It's what makes us tick.

Modern ceramics, retro plates, tins and enamel dishes placed cheek to cheek with antique serving platters (we have some seriously old and beautiful 'chargers') beautifully arranged and picked to compliment the feasting food. How things look and how our food is presented to our guests is of the utmost importance - it's the heart and soul of everything we do.

By Ellie Grace Photography

THE SCENE IS SET

Our Feasting tables are a sight to behold... The reclaimed timber tops effortlessly set a scene for your feast to unfold.

Styled with tumbling blooms and leafy foliage in antique or vintage vessels - with stacks of real wax candles casually burning and dripping held in years old brass candlestick holders...It's our signature stamp for any feasting celebration at our place.

By Ellie Grace Photography

Food & Drink

"The feasting style of our menus allows us to think just about what is delicious, rather than what will look good on a plate together to be analysed and explained. The meal is totally about the ingredients and doing the best with them individually, then presenting them as a whole for our guests to enjoy them in the beauty of our venues"

CASE STUDY

The Sheffield Independent Book Festival

Curated by Sheffield indie bookshops we hosted the debut festival made by booksellers, for book lovers. The aim? To celebrate stories, authors, and the wonderful shops and publishers who keep them alive...

Guests roamed between The Mowbray and Victoria enjoying the beauty of our spaces and the beautifully curated Festival programme

At The Mowbray we hosted a book and craft market - complete with Coffee, Cakes and Cocktails - which guests enjoyed inside The Mowbray or Up On The Roof.

At Victoria we hosted a full day of talks, conversations and workshops in The Chapel and The Lodge. In the afternoon The Lodge transformed into a cosy Reading Room. Clubhouse Social presented an all day cafe-bar menu of family festival food from Vic's Fire Kitchen which guests enjoyed basking in the sunshine relaxing to the soundtrack of open mic and poetry readings... We also hosted author's book signings in The Courtyard!

Result? A magical day with over 1100 guests

"We were thrilled to be able to use Victoria and The Mowbray for the first ever Sheffield Indie Book Festival: a collaborative event hosted by four of Sheffield's independent bookshops. We felt in such safe hands, being able to draw on years of experience of event hosting, incredibly helpful and capable staff, care and thought put into everything, and of course, the most beautiful venues. We got such great feedback from visitors about the venues, and are really excited to work with the Mowbray and Victoria for next year's festival."
